THE GREVY'S ZEBRA WAS ON THE MOVE TO SAFER GROUND WITH RABBITWOMAN AND DOGMAN

#GillieandMarc #LoveTheLast

Get ready for the wildest ride of your life!

One day, as Rabbitwoman and Dogman were racing down the dusty roads of Kenya, they suddenly came to a halt to make way for a zebra crossing. In an instant, they knew they'd found a kindred spirit. The zebra bayed with joy as they hopped on his back and the three zoomed away together. Then, he told them how his species has declined by 54% in just 30 years. Together, they would put a stop to this, proving how the greatest friendships are so much more than black and white.

Rabbitwoman and Dogman tell the autobiographical tale of two opposites coming together as best friends and soulmates. This beloved pair of characters work as our conduit with wildlife, helping us find joy in nature and rekindle our connection with the wild. In the last 50 years, 70% of the planet's wildlife has been lost. We must act now to save them. Share your own photo with the hashtag #LoveTheLast and help spread the message that friends can be found anywhere.
